

NEW DEAL LOSES PROCESSING TAXES

Compromise Bonus Bill Introduced In Upper House

INFLATION PROVISION IS BLOCKED

Republican Attempts for Showdown on Greenback Plan is Defeated

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Currency inflation as a means of paying the soldiers' bonus was shoved further into the background today as a compromise bill, providing for full payment in bonds which could be cashed immediately, was introduced in the Senate.

Simultaneously in the house, powerful administration forces defeated a Republican attempt to bring an immediate showdown vote on the Patman proposal to pay adjusted service certificates in greenbacks.

Sen. Pat Harrison, chairman of the senate finance committee, introduced the compromise bill with the prediction it eventually would become law and would not require levying of additional taxes.
Sponsors of the compromise bill included Sen. Frederick Stoller, R., Ore.

Issuance of Bonds

The bill would provide for issuance of bonds in $50 denominations, which a veteran could cash immediately at any postoffice or could hold for 10 years as an investment at three per cent interest.

The house vote came on a motion by Rep. Wright Patman, D., Texas to discharge the ways and means committee from further consideration of his bill to pay the bonus with $2,000,000,000 in new currency.

Rep. Hamilton Fish Jr., R., N.
Y., opposed the motion because it meant deferring for two weeks
any flood action on the Patman proposal. He forced a roll call vote on the motion to recall, but the motion was carried, 228 to 100.

Patman explained delay in house consideration of his measure would give two weeks in which to "watch developments" on the bonus situation. He said he would place his measure on the calendar for later consideration. Patman supported the united front bill, passed by the house 356 to 59, which provided no means of bonus payment. He reserved the right to press his inflationary proposal later, but did not desire the test to come immediately.

ANGELUS TEMPLE PASTOR STRICKEN

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—Rheba
Crawford Spivalo, associate pastor
at Almen Semple McPherson's Angelus Temple and former state welfare department head, was reported seriously ill today at a Glendale sanitarium.

The evangelist was said to have been stricken with a stomach ailment over the weekend while participating in concluding ceremonies of the 13th annual convention of
Mrs. McPherson's Four-Square
Gospel church.

TWO Fliers DIE IN PLANE CRASH

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 13.—Crash of a small plane which apparently could not buck heavy winds yesterday took the lives of Ted Bair, 37, and Morris Clark, 33, transport pilot.

The tiny rented monoplane fell from 500 feet, crashing a short distance from a highway. Witnesses said a strong wind threw the plane into a spin and Clark was unable to right it.

Bair died instantly while Clark lived until he reached a hospital.

BELL IS DEMOCRATIC SYMBOL

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13.—The Liberty Bell will be the symbol and insignia of the 1936 Democratic National convention.

This was revealed by W. Forbes Morgan, secretary of the party's national committee, who came to Philadelphia to inspect Convention hall, scene of the June convention.

"The Liberty Bell which we so reverently salute," Morgan said,
"This bell which tolled its message for freedom and happiness will be the symbol and insignia of the Democratic national convention."

MANAGER OF LOCAL BANK TAKES LIFE

Body Found Under Automobile Sunday Morning;
III Health Blamed

A HALF-HOUR of intensive work by the fire department's pulmotor squad early Sunday morning failed to revive Charles K. Dodds, 50, manager of the Santa Ana branch of the Bank of America, whom he was found lying beneath the exhaust pipe of his automobile at his home, 1211
North Broadway, and Coronor Earl Abey, after investigation, reported the banker a suicide victim.

When Mr. Dodds' body was found, the motor of his automobile was still running. Mike and Arthur Ryan of 8 Eighteenth place, Long Beach, friends of the family, discovered Dodds and sent a call for assistance, according to police reports filed today. Mrs.
Dodds said her husband had left the house about 9 p.m. Saturday and when he did not return at midnight, a search was started.
Mr. Dodds, who was manager of the Bank of America branch here, will be succeeded, for the present,
by J. E. Breaux, assistant manager.

According to the coroner's investigation, which concluded the case officially, Dodds had been suffering ill health recently and had been unhappy at home.

Funeral services will be conducted for Mr. Dodds at Smith and Tuthill's funeral chapel tomorrow at 4 p.m. with the Rev. W. J.
Hatter, rector of the Church of the Messiah, officiating. Born in Kingston, Ontario, Canada, Mr.
Dodds had lived in California 12 years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Violet Dodds, of Santa Ana, his father, John Dodds, and a brother and two sisters,
Gilbert Dodds and Mrs. Charles
Porter and Mrs. James Gouinlock, all of Toronto, and a brother, Jack Dodds of Chicago. A sister, the late Mrs. Charles Fountain, also of Toronto, passed away several weeks ago. Interment will be made at Fairhaven cemetery.

Rescuers Balked

Rescuers were held back by the gale which sent the Iowa to her doom. The wind knocked down the breaches buoy ropes fired by coast guard boats which approached the scene and the waves prevented boats from coming close enough to board the wreck.

CAFE OWNER SHOT IN LOVE TRIANGLE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 13.—George Martin, 45, Sacramento railroad worker, was near death today after he had shot and killed Hesikian Perkis, 55, restaurant owner, and then turned the pistol on himself.

Police said the shooting climaxed a triangle involving Mrs. Ann Perkis who left her husband three months ago after having married to him for 28 years.

The woman insisted to police that she and Martin were "nothing more than good friends."

The shooting took place in Per-kis' restaurant in plain sight of a number of witnesses. Martin has been charged with murder.

tate, according to his will filed for probate today. The estate was valued at $250,000.

The will, made out before Miss Bruce divorced the screen's one-time "great lover," also made provision for Leatrice Joy II, whose mother, Leatrice Joy, was Gilbert's second wife.

Concurrently, Superior Judge Arthur Keeshan issued special letters of administration to Charles A. Greene, the actor's business manager, authorizing him to handle upwards of $600,000 worth of stocks, purchased on margin.
Greene's bond was fixed at $100,000.

BRUNO'S HOPE FOR REPIEVE AGAIN DASHED

employing a Washington firm of constitutional lawyers to advise them in preparing an appeal to a federal district court for a writ of habeas corpus. The application for the writ will stipulate that an appeal is to be taken to the U. S. Supreme court on new constitutional grounds.

Lawyers outside Hauptmann's counsel believed almost unanimously that the writ would not be granted. The Supreme court already has refused to intervene.

Despite opinions that a reprieve would be illegal, Governor Hoffman indicated that he may order one. It probably would be requested, since precedent has been established by several governors over a long period of time.

Hoffman Undecided

The state constitution permits a governor to grant reprieves up to not more than 90 days after the date of conviction." Hauptmann was convicted in Flemington last January, but Hoffman and other governors have construed the clause to mean that conviction dates from the time the last appeal is refused.

"But I don't know whether I'll grant a reprieve," Hoffman said with a harassed air. "I don't know what I'm going to do and I have no comment beyond that."

He reneged in New York last night on his previously declared intention of ordering Dr. John F. (Jafie) Condon returned from Panama, where he is bound on the S. S. Santa Rita.

The young governor said Saturday that he thought Condon's sudden departure Friday night was "highly significant" and he intended to have him returned for questioning.

But last night, hurrying from mysterious conferences with unidentified men on a New York street, he said:

"I don't know any more about Condon than I do about any other future aspect of this case. What can I do? He's on his way to South America. I can't stop him."

LOUIS ZIMMERMAN CALLED BY DEATH

ANAHEIM, Jan. 18.—Louis C. Zimmerman, 64, a native of Kansas but a resident of Southern California for more than 12 years, passed away Saturday afternoon at his home, 338 N. Lemon street, Anaheim, after a brief illness. For more than five years the deceased was associated with Mr. Gordon in Gordon's Harness shop on South Los Angeles street, Anaheim.

He is survived by his widow, Anna G. Zimmerman; one brother, Edward A. Zimmerman and one sister, Miss Mathilda Zimmerman, both of St. Joseph, Mo.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Hilgenfeld Funeral home, Anaheim, tomorrow at 1 o'clock. The Rev. S. E. Schrader, pastor of the Salem Evangelical church, will officiate and interment will be made in the Grand View cemetery near Glendale.

34 PERISH AS STEAMER SINKS NEAR ASTORIA

storm which produced a 90-mile an hour wind at the mouth of the river early Sunday morning.

When Capt. Edgar L. Yates, veteran skipper, took out the freighter from Portland Saturday morning, the weather was normal. There was some rain and some wind but nothing to presage the tragedy that was to follow.

The wind literally picked up the 45-foot freighter like a feather and tossed her on the treacherous seas.

Frank Caldwell, radio operator, sent out a feeble S.O.S. at 3:49 a.m. It was the last call from the freighter.

The coast guard cutter Onan-daga answered from Astoria but the storm drove her back time and again and it was six hours later that she finally approached the scene.

Commander R. S. Patch brought the 100-ton Onan-daga within 1500 yards of the Iowa, close enough for him to observe through glasses that there was no living man aboard.

As Commander Patch attempted to maneuver closer, a towering wave smashed two lifeboats on the cutter and swept away the stacks and bridge of the Iowa.

Before Patch turned the Onan-daga back toward the Columbia, only the forecastle of the Iowa remained above the waves.

A short time later Captain Lars Bjelland, commander of the Point Adams motor lifeboat, reached the wreck and circled it several times. He too reported no life aboard.

Bjelland's boat picked up the wave-battered bodies of two seamen, their arms broken, about 500 yards inshore from the wreck.

Three small guard boats barely made it back into the river, each craft leaking where the waves had opened seams, and the 18 guardsmen shaken and bruised.

Yates and most of his crew were men from the Pacific northwest.

EIGHT HURT IN AUTO CRASHES OVER WEEKEND

No Orange county traffic fatalities occurred over the weekend, according to police and hospital reports of six accidents in which eight persons were injured.

According to hospital reports, W. W. Cowles, 54, and his mother, Mrs. Sarah Cowles, 80, of 322 South Garnsey street, suffered painful injuries in an accident on West Fifth street, beyond the city limits, and were rushed to Santa Ana Valley hospital last night. Cowles suffered possible skull fracture, cuts and bruises, while his mother was less painfully hurt, suffering from cuts, bruises and shock. X-rays are being taken today to determine extent of their injuries.

Three persons were still undergoing medical treatment today, following a collision of cars Saturday morning at Flower and Highland streets, here. The cars were driven by Arnold A. Wilken, 27, of 921 West Fairview, who was going north on Flower, and Mrs. Minnie Wilkin, 50, of 724 South Main street, who recently came here from Granite City, Ill., according to police reports. Wilken, who was knocked unconscious, suffered neck, shoulder and back injuries—Elaine Wilken, 14, suffered similar injuries and 6-year-old Herman A. Naiman Jr. of Los Angeles, suffered jaw and checkbone injuries, and cuts.

No injuries resulted from a collision of cars at Cypress avenue, a half-mile west of Alamitos boulevard, at Los Alamitos, over the weekend, according to reports filed with the state highway patrol office today. The drivers were Lazaeo Camarillo, 56, of Route 5, Box 258, Santa Ana, and Jose Barba, 25, Box 206, Los Alamitos.

On the coast highway at Jasmine street, Laguna Beach, Mervin Menke, 5, of Los Angeles, who was riding with her mother, was hurled through the windshield when the Menke car collided with an Arden Dairy milk truck. She was treated by Dr. B. B. Mason for lacerations of the face.

In a spectacular collision at Coast highway and Cypress, Laguna Beach, a truck owned by the Taylor brothers, Laguna Beach contractors, collided with a car operated by Mrs. G. W. Wheeler, 4265 Tujunga avenue, North Hollywood, who has been living temporarily at San Clemente. Ira E. Taylor, hurled from the truck, sustained painful ear lacerations and pavement burns. The Wheeler car continued on to the east sidewalk of the highway, jumping a 10-inch curb and demolishing a wood and cement bench outside of the Casa del Camino apartments before stopping. Traffic Officer Jack Blakeney, who investigated, reported Mrs. Wheeler uninjured.

Paul Colburn Jr., son of Paul Colburn, principal of Laguna Beach public schools, sustained a broken leg when the bicycle he was riding collided with an automobile driven by Mrs. Ruth B. Petty, 527 Lombardy lane, Laguna. Dr. Mason treated the youth.

Three small guard boats barely made it back into the river, each craft leaking where the waves had opened seams, and the 18 guardsmen shaken and bruised.

Yates and most of his crew were men from the Pacific northwest.

"ROXY" FOUND DEAD IN BED IN HIS SUITE

Roxy painted his own scenery, lettered his own handbills, cleaned and operated his own projecting machine. He even swept out the theater and announced the program, as was the custom in the early cinematic days.

With an idea now of what he wanted to do in life, he went to Minneapolis and operated a theater there on a modest scale. Next he went to Milwaukee where he ran the old Alhambra.

In 1918 he came to Broadway. First Roxy was at the Regent, then at the Strand. When the Strand opened—then the largest motion picture house in the world—Roxy became its managing director. Similar positions followed at the Rialto, the Rivoli and the Capitol. Roxy shows had become famous in New York for the color and glamor of the stage effects and novelty of presentation.

Radio arose as a factor in the entertainment business and Roxy was on hand to take part in it. During a program he mentioned that close friends called him by the nickname of "Roxy" and "Roxy" he was known by from then on.

Then he left the capitol to build

FOURSQUARE
An unusual service is planned for the FOURSQUARE Church Tuesday night when Rev. Myron Sackett, long state supervisor of Foursquare churches will present moving pictures of conditions in Germany and will speak on his impressions of Hitler.

Rev. Sackett has just returned from a three months evangelistic tour of Germany and brings up to date reports of the political, social and religious conditions of the Fascist controlled nation. The service will begin at 7:30 in the FOURSQUARE Church, Fairview and Sycamore, Tuesday night, Jan. 16th.

That Primal Wedding Day." At the conclusion of the ceremony a bottle of muscatel wine, symbolizing the feminine, and a bottle of port wine symbolizing the masculine, were blessed and blessed. The wine was then poured in 12 goblets and given to family groups or lovers present and was drunk with a blessed loaf. As each of the 80 guests departed the bishop broke sprigs of rosemary, the plant which typifies remembrance, and gave it to them to plant in their own gardens.

A wedding breakfast preceded the ceremony and a pre-nuptial service was held the night previous in the American Catholic church at Laguna.

At the close of the ceremony the couple burned incense in a censer which they retained for their car to the strains of "They Are Jolly Good Fellows." Judge Krome is a veteran of the World War and holds a service cross for unparalleled bravery in action in capturing a machine gun during the conflict.

Former Anaheim Pastor Arrested

Charged with a statutory offense against a 14-year-old girl the Rev. A. H. Englehardt, formerly of Anaheim, was arrested Saturday in Long Beach, according to word received here today. According to police the preacher fainted when he was arrested at his home and was taken to the prison ward of the general hospital in Long Beach.

Englehardt is pastor of the Divine Science Fellowship church at 1201 East Ninth street, Long Beach. According to Long Beach police the man will be charged with suspicion of violating the state medical practices act, in addition to the statutory offense.

CHARLES POTTS ON VANDERMAST STAFF

Because of increased business Charles W. Potts has been added to the permanent sales force of Vandermast's, according to an announcement from that store today. Potts will be in the clothing department and assist generally in all departments of the men's furnishings store.

Potts, who has been connected with men's clothing stores in Santa Ana for the past eight years, has had more than 10 years experience in the business having been connected with several large stores in the east before moving to Santa Ana.

Moor, having sold all the cotton permitted to be grown under his allotment contract, had no such certificates. He nevertheless demanded that the road accept his shipment, destined for Europe.

The road refused, setting up a defense that it was prohibited from moving the cotton. Moor brought suit challenging the law.

The Texas Federal district court refused to enjoin the road from refusing the goods and Moore appealed to the fifth circuit court of appeals which also held against him. Appeal to the supreme court followed.

The government intervened in the Moor case but abandoned argument when Solicitor General Seanley Reed collapsed under questioning by the court.

When Justice Owen J. Roberts declared AAA invalid he referred to the Bankhead Act as an example of the extremes to which unbridled control of production could go.

Where AAA was regarded as voluntary until the court found it otherwise, the Bankhead Act was compulsory.

It placed a prohibitive tax on the ginning of cotton grown in excess of quotas allotted each individual farmer. Those farmers who refused to sign allotment contracts were in the position of being unable to market their cotton without paying the prohibitive tax.

For this reason, the law generally has been regarded as dead. The opinion dismissing the Bankhead test suit also was unanimous.

Although the world about you is much as it has been, it will look different to you from now on.

At first your sorrow bedeviled your vision and your thoughts that life had lost its sweetness. Gradually there is a dimming of the loss of your dearest one's life, the deepening conviction that reunion is sure and the sense of the nearness of those in Paradise given to every experience a new significance.

Expect new joys as the days go on.

According to word received here it has been proposed to slash $10,000 off the budget for maintenance of the frost protection service that has saved citrus growers thousands of dollars through broadcasting frost warnings. The $10,000 to be slashed from the Pomona budget, according to word received here, is to be transferred to Florida.

In his telegrams Zinn pointed out that the budget allowance for the Pomona branch of the service could be reduced $6000 and still provide sufficient funds for the Pomona department to render reasonable, though curtailed, service.

A cut of more than $6000, Zinn pointed out in his telegrams would largely destroy the value of the service. He urged that the Orange County Farm Bureau suggestion be accepted.

PEACE OFFICERS PICK BAND FOR BENEFIT DANCE

Members of the Orange County Peace Officers' association, in charge of arrangements for the annual benefit ball announced to day that "Sunny" Brooks and his 12-piece orchestra from Hollywood, will provide music for the dance to be held the night of January 25 at Valencia ballroom.

Brooks and his orchestra have gained considerable fame through engagements at some of the film city's most exclusive night clubs, the committee announced. Most of the musicians are entertainers and present specialty numbers.

"When we became Christians we entered into a solemn covenant with God. We promised that we would give Christ the lordship of our lives; that we would endeavor to forsake all sin and conform to His example; that we would be diligent and faithful in the performance of Christian duty, as made known to us; that we would profit from the means of grace provided; that we would be loyal to the church, its services, our substance, our very selves; that we would, in a word, live daily a Christian life. When we come to the Lord's table, the service becomes a renewal on His part of His covenant with us; it becomes a renewal of our solemn covenant and holy bond with Him. I am not sure that we should share in the Sacrament unless we are willing that it should be just that the sealing anew of a Covenant.

"But upon such ground do we hesitate to partake of the Communion? Do we fear that we cannot live up to our part of the agreement, even though we are willing to have the covenant sealed? I know that we cannot do it of ourselves. But, remember, the covenant on His part is not of works but of grace. The One with whom we covenant at the communion table has written into His part of the agreement, 'I will be their God and they shall be my people. I will put my spirit within them, and cause them to walk in My statutes.' If we are willing to covenant with Him, He will not only keep forever His part of the agreement; He will enable us to do our part. We may have full confidence in Him."

REV. KELLY ON NEW COVENANT OF CHRISTIANS

At the United Presbyterian church yesterday morning, the Rev. Albert Eakin Kelly took as the Scripture text for his Communion Meditation, Luke 22:20, "He handed them the cup in the parchment deed, as it were, on which my new covenant or last will is written and sealed making over to you all my blessings here and hereafter: Jesus was entering into an agreement with the eleven, and with Christian believers of the ages. He was pledging to them all the blessings of the salvation provided for them through His death and life. The next day He sealed the contract with His own blood."

"But there are two parties to a covenant. Those eleven friends of Jesus became covenanters. They too, as they ate the bread, and as they easted of the cup, were agreeing to something. When we observe the Sacrament Jesus, our Saviour is covenanting with us, and just as truly we with Him.

"There was the cup before Him filled with the wine of the Passover. He took up the cup, again gave thanks, and passed it to the one nearest Him, and said, 'Would you please drink of it and pass it on around the circle. For this cup is the New Covenant, ratified in my blood, which is to be poured out on your behalf.'

"As Jesus and the eleven apostles reclined about the table, as was the custom, there in the Upper Room for the Passover Meal, Jesus, at the head of the table, took some of the bread of the Passover service and gave thanks to God and broke it and passed it on either side along the table and said to the men beside Him, 'Take it, eat it; this is my body, broke for you.' And as each took a portion of the bread, He added this meaningful word, 'This is in remembrance of me.'

"As the cup was being reverently passed He added, as before, 'This do, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.'

"What shall we say it signifies to them? What does it signify to us who observe the Sacrament? Does not significance gather about three parts of this repeated word of Jesus? 'This do'; 'in remembrance'; and 'of me'? There is evidence aplenty that the imperative related to the eleven with Him that evening. But as well to those who should believe upon Him through their word, and on down along the centuries to Christian believers, 'until He comes again.' This do—the following of His example upon stated occasions. 'In remembrance'—these memories of ours are a marvelous endowment. But they sometimes fall us. Memory serves us best when there is provided an incitement, an urge, a reminder in the form of something tangible, or visible. The bread of the Sacrament, and the cup, to refresh the memory of what He did for us in His sacrificial death. 'Of me'—if you will read the accounts of what transpired that evening in the Upper Room and afterwards as they walked together along the streets of Jerusalem and on out to the Garden of Gethsemane you will see that Jesus was constantly turning His attention to Himself.

"It was especially true at the table. The pronoun of the first person predominates. He was asking that, until He comes, the Supper be a memorial of Himself, of a supreme sacrifice, aye, of a New Covenant. 'This cup is the New Covenant, ratified by my blood' was the word.

"Then Jesus that evening, and the firm of Wilson and Hill, General Electric dealers located at Broadway and Third streets, today urged residents of Santa Ana and vicinity to be sure and see Herbert Marshall and Jean Arthur in Columbia's latest picture, "If You Could Only Cook," showing today and tomorrow at the Broadway theater.

The main reason why the General Electric dealers want everyone to be sure and see the picture is that one of the ultra-modern all-electric General Electric kitchens is shown in the romantic comedy.

PROGRESS IN MEXICO UNDER DIRECTION OF CARDENAS AS TOLD BY AMBASSADOR OF GOODWILL

A broad program of improvement in the fields of economics, education and industry is now under way in the neighboring republic of Mexico under the capable direction of President Cardenas, who is stressing these endeavors in a six year plan inaugurated at the time he took office a little over a year ago.

This was the message brought by an ambassador of goodwill from the Mexican people, Senor Florencio Avila Sanchez, special representative of the Mexican Federal Senate and city editor of Provincias, monthly publication of the Mexican senate, under the editorial direction of Col. Jose Garcia. Senor Sanchez is spending some time in Southern California, and yesterday was a visitor in Santa Ana, when he renewed a boyhood acquaintance with Mr. and Mrs. Omar R. Carrillo, of 1215 South Birch street, in whose home he was a guest. Sanchez and Carrillo, the latter a chemist at the Excelsior dairy, were schoolmates in Merida, Yucatan. Mrs. Carrillo also knew him in Merida, and the visit to Santa Ana followed her recognition of his picture in a Los Angeles newspaper.

A definite program of advancement is underway in Mexico under the leadership of President Cardenas, Senor Sanchez pointed out. Highways are being built into all sections of the nation to facilitate development; a railroad is being built to the Yucatan peninsula from Mexico City at a cost of 90,000,000 pesos to provide access to a rich agricultural district formerly accessible only by steamer or airplane, with 140 miles of the total of 480 scheduled in six years, completed during the first year; and a great educational campaign is being pursued to raise the levels of the lowest classes, with the federal government appropriating 12,000,000 pesos to provide school books at seven cents Mexican each, the lowest price of any school books in the world.

Opening Schools

In connection with the educational campaign President Cardenas plans to open 19,000 schools this year, and 1500 are being opened this month, Senor Sanchez said.

Another step in advancement being taken by the Mexican republic, Sanchez proudly pointed out as being the fact that President Cardenas has closed all munitions plants and converted them into factories for manufacturing agricultural implements.

Mexico is one of the few nations which is paying its debts when due and the public indebtedness has been reduced 60,500,000 pesos in the first year of the administration of President Cardenas, Sanchez asserted. The first year was closed with a balance of 32,500,000 pesos.

"All this has been accomplished work is being done by a great corps of sanitary workers going into all sections for education and guidance in preventing mortality from disease.

In connection with the educational program, it is interesting to note that in the national budget, the amount for education is second, English and French courses are compulsory for three years in are compulsory for three years in the grammar school grades of private schools.

Senor Sanchez, who had part of his schooling in Massachusetts and Canada and who worked in an American news agency in New York two years, is arranging for a broadcast by President Cardenas in Southern California, when the president will bring a message of goodwill and a direct personal invitation to visit Mexico.

W. C. T. U. HOLDS PROGRAM AT MESA

COSTA MESA, Jan. 12.—Miss Sarah Conant and Mrs. Minnie V. Reid were the main speakers on the W. C. T. U. program held in the home of Mrs. Alice Howard on Albert place Friday. Miss Conant, director of international relations for peace, gave a talk relative to her work and Mrs. Reid read a letter by Dr. Izora Scott, national W. C. T. U. director of legislation. In the letter, Dr. Scott urged the passage of the Guyer bill, which would re-establish prohibition in the District of Columbia.

Plans were made for a membership drive. Mrs. George Teaney was named as captain of one team and Mrs. Clarence Armstrong as captain of another, and the one securing the largest number of new members is to be feted by the losers.

Luncheon was served at noon. Mrs. Reid, local organization chairman, was in charge.

Christian Science

Communion services were conducted yesterday at the Santa Ana Church of Christ. Scientist. "Sacrament" was the subject of the lesson-sermon.

A Bible selection included these verses from John: "Jesus saith unto them, Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord. Jesus then cometh, and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish likewise. . . So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs."

One of the citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, stated: "What a contrast between our Lord's last supper and His last spiritual breakfast with His disciples in the bright morning hours at the joyful meeting on the shore of the Galilean Sea! . . . This spiritual meeting with our Lord in the dawn of a new light is the morning meal which Christian Scientists commemorate. They bow before Christ, Truth, to receive more of His reappearing and silently to commune with the divine principle, love."

MAKES FLYING TRIP TO DELIVER GOODS

Up in the air over delivery of an automobile compass order, Murray Rosenfeld, general manager of the Pep Boys stores of California, stepped into an airplane at Los Angeles and flew to San Diego to make the delivery personally.

A telegram, requesting the merchandise was received in Los Angeles at 4:09 p.m. and at 7:05 the same evening Rosenfeld stepped from the plane in San Diego. "It is a matter of pride with us to see that our patrons get what they ask for and no expense is spared in maintaining this service record," Rosenfeld declared. "The item requested was included in our advertisement for the week and its popularity exhausted the San Diego store's supply just a day before the advertisement appeared. We considered it vitally necessary to see that an adequate stock reached San Diego in time, as we always make good on what our advertisements promise." The local Pep Boys store is located at 211 North Main street.

QUICK! STOP THAT COLD IN THE DRY OR FIRST STAGE!

A cold ordinarily goes through three stages: The Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage.

A cold is twice as easily stopped in the first as in the second or third stages. In fact, to let a cold run beyond the first stage is inviting trouble.

As your doctor will tell you there is nothing better you can take for a cold than Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. It is expressly a cold tablet and not a "cure-all". It is internal treatment which a cold requires. It does four important things.

First, it opens the bowels. Second, it checks the infection in the system. Third, it relieves the headache and fever. Fourth, it tones the system and helps fortify

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG — News Behind the News —

BY PAUL MALLON

SHADING

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Subtle lighting effects are one of the outstanding unheralded accomplishments of the New Deal.

To wit, President Roosevelt started his press conference off recently by announcing he had just signed an order extending the stabilization fund for another year. No one cared anything about the stabilization fund. All naturally wondered about dollar devaluation authority, which was in the same law.

Devaluation? The President did not appear to know anything about that. He would have to see. Mumbling half aloud, he read through the order. No, the order did not make clear whether he had continued his devaluation authority or not. News seekers would have to check up with the treasury on that.

GLOW

Present was the treasury's executive publicity adviser, Mr. Gaston. He did not know either. He would also have to check. To do so, he went off, not in the direction of the treasury but back into the White House secretarial offices. Later it was announced that the President had "also" apparently continued his devaluation authority, unbeknown to himself, if you can imagine that.

Newsmen, emerging, said to themselves: "Well, the London devaluation rumors today must be wrong, because the President did not even know about the subject." This was the desired glow. It was reflected all over the financial world.

KALEIDOSCOPE

It would be simpler if the New Deal shading system were not occasionally like the street traffic signals in Washington. Some of the red stop-lights here mean go-right and left. Some of the green go-signals mean stop (one at the main entrance to the capitol grounds).

Thus, while Mr. Roosevelt was turning his green dimmers on the devaluation rumors, some of his Democratic congressmen were publicly seeing red inflation probabilities from the AAA decision. Also, the house was passing a two or three billion dollar bonus bill without funds, and Postmaster General Farley was telling the Democratic national committee that Mr. Roosevelt was a sound money man.

Through the kaleidoscope, this much can be seen for certain:

Mr. Roosevelt is preserving his devaluation powers solely for currency dickering with foreign nations if occasion arises. It may or may not come within the next year. He will not devalue any more of his own accord. Inflation threats were put forward by New Deal congressmen solely to sober up conservatives, cheering over the AAA decision. The congressmen could not resist the temptation.

No devaluation or currency inflation is planned.

FACE

Thickening of the fray has left no noticeable mark upon Mr. Roosevelt's countenance. Callers over the weekend noted the rudeness of his skin. No more than the usual characteristic nervousness was apparent. He still blinks his eyes frequently in a sort of squint-blink. He smokes incessantly, twitches his cigarette holder in his fingers. From the front, his thin hair is as gray as the smoke which he belows forth in large puffs (he does not inhale much). But from the back, his hair is thicker and a brown-gray.

A comparison of the photos at his inauguration and at the Jackson day dinner reflects a less striking change than might be expected.

BONANZA

The size of the bonus vote in the house bespoke the internal joy of congressmen at being able to cast it. Once Speaker Byrnes stopped the roll call to request order because it was "a most important vote." Mr. Byrnes considered it so important, he voted for the bonus himself. Afterward, fully a dozen congressmen asked the clerk how they were recorded. They did not want any mistake made about their approval of this issue.

About thirty-five congressmen, who voted against the bonus last year, voted for it this time. Their explanation will be that this was a non-inflationary bill. No one knows yet whether it is or not. No method was provided.

A better explanation is that this is an election year.

Note—The house ways and means committee decided not to specify either ways or means of raising the bonus money in this bill. However, it eliminated the original introduction of the bill, which mentioned the three veterans' organizations as the sole reason for passing the bill.

FIX

The historic trouble with Democratic gatherings has been that, although the leaders try to fix things, things rarely stay fixed. That was what happened in the selection of Philadelphia as a convention site.

Postmaster General Farley originally fixed everything for Philadelphia. After the AAA decision, he developed a sentimental attachment for Chicago, and fixed that. This caused Senator Guffey to tear his hair, also to wheedle more money from Philadelphia backers.

At the last minute, it was apparent that Philadelphia's extra $50,000 had overwhelmed Mr. Farley's sentimental fixing for the windy city.

That is why the vote was delayed. The leaders were called into a huddle to change signals. After fifteen minutes' consultation, the third fixing of Philadelphia was made to stick. Mr. Farley was thus able to say he had been for Philadelphia all the time.

Note—Mr. Farley's sentimental attachment for Chicago is supposed to have developed out of the improbability of Mr. Roosevelt carrying Pennsylvania. For four years, Guffey has been telling Farley that the keystone Republican state could and would be carried. For the first three years, Farley believed him, but it took the extra $50,000 to convince him this time.

WASHINGTON

CLARIFIED

White House councils for reviving some kind of an AA have been sad and unproductive affairs. Legal, political and agricultural brains are still numb under the devastating whacks of the supreme court. Privately they admit that they are whistling to scare up courage and for political effect in the West.

F. D. R. reads the two opinions line by line at these powwows. Pausing after a particularly pertinent phrase, he asks how it applies to various features of any new farm act. Attorney General Cummings volunteers advice on the law. Secretary Wallace explains agricultural economics. Senator Bankhead or Rep. Marvin Jones, Democratic farm experts, report on legislative and political circles are that the Detroit padre's mail and collections are falling off. He is not the political rogue that he was 12 months ago. The suspicious suggest that there is a connection between those portents and his trip to Washington.

The vets' lobbyists contend that the money would stimulate industry. They say their charts show that it would be spent for automobiles, house repairs, furniture and household equipment, clothes. They predict it would make an immediate market for 360,000 automobiles—almost a month's production in good times. This selling talk is tempting congressmen always classed as anti in the past. It has also worked up favorable sentiment among small businessmen back home. The absence of any concerted drive against payment surprises old-timers on Capitol Hill.

ASSIST

Liberty Leaguers are chukking and crowing—over an accidental radio collision with President Roosevelt. They think they come out of the smash better than he did.

A month ago Jouett Shouse scheduled Dr. Walter E. Spahr of New York university for a lecture talk on the "Evils of the Townsend Plan," with January 3 as the date. Too late for any shift Mr. Shouse learned that F. D. R. planned to deliver his message on the "State of the Union" the same evening. Mr. Roosevelt was to go on the air at 9 o'clock. Dr. Spahr at 10:30. Publicist Bill Murphy phoned the economist, expressing regrets over the prospect that the presidential voice would smother his and begging Dr. Spahr to do the bravest he could.

But the Spahr address turned out to be the most popular and mail-provoking of any the league has sponsored. It brought in 3,000 letters in three days, and all but 20 were laudatory. The White House had received only 300 up to noon the next day. That's twice the White House has helped to ballyhoo league affairs, the first being when Mrs. Roosevelt invited Al Smith to sleep at the White House.

LAMONT

The House of Morgan exhibits more alarm over the Nye munitions investigation than it did over the 1933 inquiry which disclosed its preferential stock cuts to prominent people. Partners Morgan, Lamont and Whitney have taken extraordinary precautions to present their war-financing activities to the public in a favorable light.

The Morgan men were shocked at the hostile attitude and atmosphere they met on Capitol Hill. Committee members, especially Nye and Clark, treated them less respectfully than older senators on the banking and currency committee did two years ago. Even Senator Vandenberg, self-expressed G. O. P. presidential nominee, asked some sharp questions.

The examiners said publicly, that they consider Morgan handled loans to France and Great Britain to be the basic cause of American entry into the conflict.

Smart Tom Lamont acted quickly. He sent an emergency call for Partners Leffingwell and S. Parker Gilbert, although they had not been subpoenaed by the investigators. So far the inner board of strategy has reached only two conclusions. The President will not listen to suggestions for a constitutional amendment vesting in the government the authority denied by the supreme court. They have agreed to make haste slowly in framing new legislation. Congressional couriers report that anxious legislators will vote for no measure whose colors are not guaranteed to hold fast in the judicial wringer.

PERSONALITIES IN THE DAY'S SPORT NEWS

The trappings of an All-American football player went on display today. . . . In the window of the tailor shop of his father, Phil Lutz, at 217 West Fourth street, were a few of the medals given Larry Lutz, the Santa Ana tackle who made four of the five nationally accepted all-star creations in 1935.

Noteworthy was the handsome blanket, insignia of the famed All-American Football Board (Warner, Walsh, Jones and Thomas). Also shown were Lutz's official All-American sweater, medals, pictures and two of the three watches he received from various sources during the '35 campaign.

Larry returns to the University of California late this week, reports next Monday for the Golden Bear track team which he hopes to make as a javelin and discus thrower. His plans for next fall are still in abeyance. He hopes to land a spot as assistant freshman coach at California. Failing in this, he would accept one of several offers to play professional football.

"Walloping Wayne" Nelson, old-time outfielder in softball, hero of more than one victory of the Santa Ana Stars, will try out as an umpire in the National Night Ball league this summer. Roy Renwick, country club pro, (he pronounces the name Renswick) is on the Santa Ana Jaycees faculty as golf instructor this semester. Mike Reynolds, former Stanford and Universal Pictures baseball ace who plays in the Community League here with Shell Oil, is a distributing salesman for the company, driven down from Pasadena for the games at the Y. M. C. A. Reynolds played in two National A. A. U. tournaments with Universal.

PASS-DEFENSE RULE MOST TROUBLESOME IN FOOTBALL

The rule covering pass interference causes more headaches than any other.

"You incur somebody's ill will no matter which way you decide this controversial question of fact," explains Bill Crowley, a great player at Bowdoin in his day and now dean of eastern referees.

"It isn't generally understood that a defensive player is allowed to interfere with a receiver, provided the former is making a simultaneous and bona fide effort to catch or bat down the ball."

"He must not deliberately impede the receiver. The crowd often boos when the receiver is legitimately bumped by a defender who is reaching for the ball."

"Courage is essential in a referee. He must call his decisions as he sees them, regardless of whose ox is gored. I recall working a major game some years ago with a young referee who was assigned to the job for experience under pressure. On a goal line play the home side tackle palpably held his opponent with both arms as the ball carrier slammed over the line."

"My young colleague signaled a touchdown. I went over to the delinquent player, patted him on the back, and said: 'Sorry, old man, but you were holding on that play. It's a 15-yard penalty and the score doesn't count.'

"A few minutes later my associate came to me and said: 'Gosh you had nerve to call that penalty on a touchdown play against the home team.' I told him to forget home town partiality if he expected to remain in the big time."

"As a matter of fact, I didn't realize a touchdown was at stake. My eyes were fixed on the players and the obvious foul had to be penalized."

A CHEER FOR ARMY

The war department order prohibiting army officers from acting as football coaches in civilian colleges is a good one.

Why should army officers be allowed to collect pay from two sources? There are plenty enough civilian coaches to go around.

Now the newspapers ought to get together and bar coaches from writing. That would give legitimate football reporters a chance.

YOU'RE TELLING ME!

Mike Karakas, Chicago Black Hawk goalie, is a frugal sort of a chap. . . . He sends 80 per cent of his earnings home to his mother . . . and has worn the same hat for three years. . . . Potsy Clark, coach of the Detroit Lions, pro football champions, has written a book entitled "Football".

Willie Hoppe and Welker Cochran will meet in Chicago, Jan. 9-11, for the world three-cushion billiard championship. . . . Chuck Galbreath, captain and tackle of the University of Illinois' 1935 football team, has received an appointment to the U. S. Military Academy, and may play for Army in 1937. . . . It is reported that 5000 athletes will take part in the 1936 Olympic Games in Germany.

DONS TIED FOR BASKET LEAD

Eckhardt In Last Chance

COAST BATTLING KING, 34, HAS FAILED THRICE

By HENRY SUPER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—An odd assortment of rookies, some getting their last chance to crack into major league baseball, will report to many National league clubs when spring training starts in a few weeks.

Veterans who have been up before, collegians hoping to go from the campus to the big time, and minor league stars who have finished their apprenticeship—all are included in the annual consignment of potential Cobbs.

Ruths and Mathewsons.

Two 34-year-old men—Johnny Cooney of Indianapolis and Oscar Eckhardt of the San Francisco Missions, both outfielders—will report to the Brooklyn Dodgers, undoubtedly their last opportunity to land a major league job. Another old-timer who has been up before is Johnny Gill, 29-year-old outfielder from Minneapolis who will try to crack into the Chicago Cub lineup.

Giants Sign Collegians

On the other side of the ledger are the names of Pitchers Clarence Anderson, of Colgate, and Sharkey Eiland, former Mississippi State star, both of whom will show at the New York Giants camp.

A third group of newcomers includes such minor league aces as Lyle Judy, Springfield, Mo., who stole 107 bases last year; Gene Lillard, Los Angeles third baseman who led the Pacific Coast league in homers, and Mike Ryba of Columbus, one of the American association's best all-round players.

Chances of these and other rookies making good are slim. Each season hundreds come up and only a handful get jobs. Last year, for example, only one dozen rookies really succeeded in the National league.

Eckhardt's Record Impressive

Eckhardt, Cooney and Gill are the newcomers who have been up the most times. Eckhardt, a 200-pound Texan, has been owned by major league clubs during four of the eight years he has been in the minors. During that period, the sliders on the U. S. Olympic team had to dig down and bring up $200, or a note for that amount, to help finance their trip to Germany . . . which is a rather sorry condition, seeing as how the sliders are risking their lives on ice curves for the honor and glory of Uncle Sam. . . . Syracuse university has a full-blooded Hindu playing on its cage squad—Wilmeth W. Sidat Singh. . . . The New York Giants turned in a profit of $480,000 last season. . . . The Pilots will celebrate their 50th anniversary as member of the National League in the coming season. . . . George Anderson, California's sprinter, will play football for the Bears after the Olympics. George Melnikovich, former Notre Dame fullback, has a cousin, Pete, who is a freshman at the Irish institution. . . . Louis Nova, of San Francisco, national and international amateur heavyweight champion of 1934, is in New York seeking professional engagements. . . . Bill Terry makes the training trips of the New York Giants and their touring partners, the Cleveland Indians, pay by playing the smaller towns. . . . It is suggested that in the next deal between the Red Sox and A. Tom Yawkey turn over the Boston scouts to Connie Mack. . . . Notre Dame's basketball team is winning with last minute rallies, too. . . . Bob Quinn, has asked Boston fans to suggest a new name for the Braves. That's a difficult task in the Hub. . . . The customers ran out of names last August.

SANTA CLARA DROPS FOUR GRID PLAYERS

SANTA CLARA, Jan. 13.—Santa Clara's 1936 football prospects were dealt an upcurt today when four promising football stars, including giant Jack Sobro, brother of Frank, the ex-Bronco passing ace, were denied admission to school due to scholastic deficiencies.

Others who were dropped from the registration rolls were Homer Helmstein, guard from Alameda; Bruce Campbell, end, and Oscar Gisler, promising guard.

According to Sam Dunne, athletic manager, and Father Genero, S. J., moderator of athletics, the four have applied for a chance to make up their deficiencies, but no move along that line has been made.

Sobro, former Oakland high school star, was figured as an outstanding candidate for the varsity fullback berth, where "Clipper" Smith believed his 220 pounds would come in handy, while the others were also classed as potential regulars. Helmstein played two years as a reserve guard. Gisler was outstanding last season as a sophomore.

Wrestling Club 'Dark'; All-Star Show Next Week

Unable to sign an outstanding main event for his regular wrestling program, originally scheduled for tonight, Promoter S. A. Sampson is planning an all-star card for next week when he will stage a double three-fall main event with Gino Garibaldi, the Italian ace meeting Herb Freeman, and Dick Daviscourt opposing Sander Szabo.

Both Garibaldi and Daviscourt, although considered two of the topnotchers in the heavyweight ranks, have never appeared in an Orange county wrestling match.

Sandlotters Now Rival Managers

They both used to play sand-lot baseball in Golden Gate Park in San Francisco, their home town. They both played with the San Francisco Seals and were "sold up." Lefty O'Doul, left, to the Yankees, Giants and Dodgers, and Willie Kamm to fetch a price of $125,000 and play a dozen seasons with the White Sox and Cleveland Indians. Now both are back in San Francisco. O'Doul as manager of the Seals and Kamm will pilot the Mission club.

No matter how far away the field is, or how bunched it is, he can spot the horses perfectly. . . . A golf tournament for baseball players will be held over the Bobby Jones course in Sarasota early in February, and already "Dizzy" Dean, Heinie Manush, Lloyd Brown, Paul Waner, Mickey Cochrane, Paul Derringer, Willard Hudlin, and Garland Braxton have entered. . . . We're betting on "Big Poison" Waner, who can knock that golf ball better than he can a baseball.

Bryan (Bitzy) Grant doesn't believe the American Davis Cup team will ever get to England if the Australian coppers decide to challenge in the American zone instead of Europe. . . . George Lott, however, thinks the U. S. will not only beat the Aussies, but will regain the cup as well. . . . But then George always was a bit optimistic. . . . It took him 10 years and $10,000 to discover he couldn't beat the horses.

Judith's performance while Jack was getting kayoed by Buffalo Bear in Madison Square Garden was voted the "finest all-around performance of the year 1935" by many critics. . . . If Jack could fight like Judith can carry on, he'd be the answer to the white horse prayer.

MIAMI YOUTH NEW TENNIS SENSATION

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 13.—Arthur Hendrix, 23-year-old Lakeland, Fla., tennis sensation, today attained a new high position in Uncle Sam's amateur racket-wielding fraternity.

The youthful Miami university law student, who first trod the high road a week ago when he defeated Wilmer Allison, America's No. 1 player, in four sets, yesterday continued his campaign against nationally ranked netmen by subduing Bryan ("Bitzy") Grant, No. 3 man in the nation.

Playing in the semi-finals of the Miami-Biltmore tennis tournament, Grant took the first set 6-2, but never stood a chance as Hendrix ran out the match 6-4, 6-3, 6-0.

Lanky Horton Smith of Chicago captured sixth place money at 286, one stroke ahead of Byron Nelson of Ridgewood, N. J. Bracketed at 289 were Harry Cooper of Chicago, Al Zimmerman, Portland, Ore.; Jim Lafoon, Denver, Colo., and Willie Goggin, San Francisco.

Scoring in every inning, Irvine's baseball team overpowered Compton, 15-3, at Eddie Martin's airport Sunday. "Bud" Staples hurled three-hit ball for the Beancollectors while his mates lashed at Leasure, Wolina and Conchola for a total of 15 safeties. Errors gave Compton all its runs. Hodges hit a Homer for Irvine. The score:

13 points, Lockhart through his ability to sink shots from center. Erdhaus scored mostly by one-handed shots from near the foul circle. If this pair can keep up the pace they set Saturday night and Lacy continues to play his usual smooth game, Santa Ana will be hard to stop this winter.

Stanley's Passing Helpful

Although scoreless, Stanley's accurate passing which "fed" set-ups to Lacy and Erdhaus made the lanky southpaw a mainspring in the Dons' attack. On defense John Henry guarded O'Connor so closely that that scoring threat connected for only one basket.

Rebels' reserves, who played as good part of the second half, gave a good account of themselves.

Kenny Nissley, forward, and smallest man on the squad, was in the lead. Clarence Riggs and John Jenison also looked good.

In the curtain-raiser the Bachelder and Buccaneer service clubs contributed a nip and tuck affair with the Bachelors winning, 24-19.

Rebels is contemplating a game for his seconds with Scottie's Malt cagers Wednesday night. The Dons go to Riverside Saturday night.

RIVERSIDE, POMONA WIN OPENING GAMES

Fulerton today singled out Santa Ana and Riverside as being the teams most likely to usurp the Yellowjackets' Eastern conference basketball championship, following Saturday night's games.

After playing on even terms up to the final 10 minutes, Coach Jess Mortensen's Bengals put on an 18-point spurt and at the same time held the San Bernardino cagers scoreless to win 42-24.

Merle Harris garnered 14 points for the winners.

Pomona's ability to outlast

Coach H. L. Mitchell's Chaffey cassava toppers told the tale at Ontario as the Red Raiders came out on top 33-28 in a see-saw battle.

Fulerton's champions had an open date, play Pomona this week.

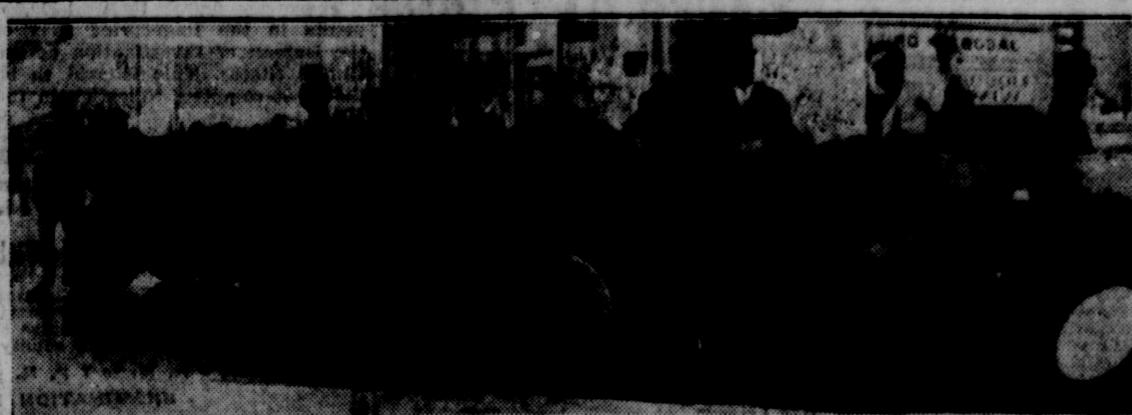

Ben Osterman and A. A. May put together a 75-18-6 to bag first money in medal play. Dean Campbell and J. E. Sater, 50-11-6, finished in the second spot.

ADVANTAGES OF TIRES TOLD TO TRACTOR MEN

RUBBER TIRES FOR TRACTORS

Progress made in the field of substituting more modern traction tires on tractors for use in orchard and field work, is shown below on the tractors which have been equipped with rubber tractor tires, replacing the old metal wheels. The picture was taken at the Firestone station at First and Main streets, and shows but a few of the 207 sets of tractor tires put out by the Firestone company in Santa Ana alone.

Kenneth Paden, tractor representative for the Firestone Tire and Rubber company in Santa Ana, today pointed out numerous advantages of Firestone tires on wheel-type tractors.

"Installation of rubber tires on tractors," he said, "makes the tractor available for additional operations not possible before, therefore increasing the value of the machine. It substantially reduces the rolling resistance, which increases draw-bar horsepower. It permits higher speeds and will pull the same load in higher gears, which constitutes a saving in time."

"An average of 28 per cent saving in fuel has been proven. With the new type tires for tractors, the machines do not throw dirt over the operator or the machine itself, increasing the life of the tractor and enabling the operator to do a better job. The rubber tires reduce vibration, thereby cutting depreciation."

PRIZES AWARDED IN CHURCH CONTEST

PLACENTIA, Jan. 13.—Mrs. Fern Soulus won first place, Mrs. Dean Karriker, second place, and Miss Lucille Allen, third place, in an attendance contest at Calvary church. They were awarded prizes at the services at the church Sunday night by the pastor, the Rev. Don Milligan.

lution and maintenance costs. Soft rubber tractor tires do not pack as solid, wide steel wheels do. Equipped with rubber tires, tractors can be driven over improved highways or on any floor and can be used in orchards, citrus groves and meadows without injury to root systems. Savings in fuel, time and repairs, plus the added work the tractor will do pays the cost of changing from steel tires to Firestone rubber," he said.

Regarding brakes on tractors, he said: "The main advantage with rubber tires is that in turning, each wheel brakes independently of the other. For example, supposing you wish to turn to the left around an orange tree without having to go back and forth in order to make the turn, all the operator would have to do is set the brake on the left rear wheel and the tractor pulls itself around, thereby eliminating the waste of fuel, time and patience of the tractor operator."

Special Meeting

"Shall we discontinue the January banquet, and have one in April?" was the important question discussed Monday night January 4, between the high and low nine social law groups, which met at the home of Elaine Owings, 1018 Spurgeon street. After the business meeting, refreshments were served by Barbara Rowell, Joan Bray, Barbara Tucker, Anita Potter, Anna Margaret Bell and Elaine Owings.

Pottery Returned

Hurrah! Hurrah! was the cry you could hear from Miss Glancy's two craft classes when the pottery was returned from the kilns in Los Angeles and Laguna Beach. There were 70 pieces in all and they will be exhibited on a piece of modern furniture, made by Mr. Nisewanger some time in the spring, according to Miss Glancy. The classes are now working on pewter, leather and carving.

Enrollment

On January 6, 14 new pupils enrolled at Willard school, making the present total of students 830.

A group of students from Willard attended a concert given by the Vienna Boys' choir in Long Beach this week at the Polytechnic high school. The majority of the students were made up of Miss Davis' Senior Boys' Glee club and her music classes.

Class Dramatizes Plays

The high and low nine business training classes, under the direction of Mrs. Wright, have been dramatizing plays once a week. The plays they have dramatized so far are "A Dollar Down," "Speed," "All Wool," "Murder Will Out" and "Sterling." The classes are now working on a skit to be presented in assembly, January 17, Mrs. Wright announced.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

THE French Revolution raised the curtain for one of the weirdest rebellions in history—a rebellion of the slaves of Saint Domingue, now Haiti, against their white French masters and those mulatto planters who set themselves above the blacks. And the leader in this uprising that set up a Negro republic, then a Negro kingdom, from 1793 to 1820, was Francois Dominique Toussaint, nicknamed "L'Ouverture." The Opener, and "First of the Blacks." Toussaint became governor-general of the island until Napoleon arose and cast eager eyes on rich Saint Domingue. In 1802, the black ruler's armies fought the first invaders, but then, by lying and flattery and vain promises, Napoleon's representatives trapped Toussaint into surrender and took him to France, where he died in 1803 in a stone dungeon in the Alps.

In 1804, on the centenary of the actual independence of Haiti, that country issued a set of stamps on one of which was Toussaint's picture. It is shown here.

Center Group Of Villa Park Meets

TUSTIN, Jan. 13.—"Simplified Housecleaning" will be demonstrated by Miss Frances Liles, county home demonstration agent, at the regular meeting of the home department of the Tustin Farm center at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday, at Tustin Union High school domestic science room. Mrs. Porter G. Luther, chairman, announced today.

Each woman attending is asked to provide her own sandwiches for the luncheon to be shared at noon. Those desiring to do so may bring pieces of cheesecloth or other material which will be treated and made into dust cloths by Miss Liles.

Hold Quality Clothing Event at Swanberger's

Swanberger's Store for Men, located at 205 West Fourth Street, today offers thrifty shoppers an opportunity to purchase the high quality merchandise, for which Swanberger's has established a county-wide reputation, at savings which amount in effect to from 20 to 30 1/2 per cent.

Kuppenheimer and Timely quality clothes are being offered at Swanberger's at direct savings ranging from 15 to 30 per cent. Savings greater than this, however, are made possible by purchases made new. Walter Swanberger pointed out, because of the advances in price levels on suits and overcoats which will come with the spring.

Far-sighted men will take immediate advantage of this opportunity to purchase that new suit or overcoat now, instead of waiting a few months and then paying considerably more. Clothing prices ARE going up. Now is the time to buy. And you can make this buying doubly easy by using Swanberger's modern extended charge account service. The plan is this: You pay one-third down, another third in 30 days and the balance in 80 days. No additional charges or red tape. It's as easy as that!

Swanberger pointed out to his hundreds of friends and customers that he has brought in no "steer-out" merchandise for Swanberger's Quality Clothing Event, but is offering Kuppenheimer, Timely and other standard makes of clothing at advantageous savings. At this event as always at Swanberger's you can "buy with confidence and wear with pride."

— Political Rumblings —

By PAUL VISSMAN

If Police Judge John G. Mitchell, of Santa Ana needs the plies of his many friends he will be a candidate for supervisor from the First district, according to current rumor.

It is a fact that, recently, Judge Mitchell, who also is chairman of the Orange County Democratic Central committee, was waited on by a delegation of his friends urging him to enter the lists, not as a recall candidate, if and when there is a recall election, but as a candidate in the regular county election.

If "Hissinger" should decide to make the race, opposing W. C. Jerome, incumbent, the contest for supervisor in this district would be something worth watching. Should friends of Mayor Fred Rowland succeed in bringing him out for the same race political history would be made.

Voters of the district would see three strong candidates contesting for the same office and keeping all their punches above the belt, which is more than can be said for some past contests for the same office.

A supervisory race with Jerome, Judge Mitchell and Mayor Rowland as candidates would be a contest between three of the most sagacious politicians in the district. Voters would have little to choose between them as all three men have excellent records.

Judge, or may not be open to criticism because of his attitude on the recent bond election but only the most careless gosling would dare say that he does not work for what he believes to be the best interest of the county and district. Of course his opinions may be wrong at times.

Judge Mitchell, veteran of many campaigns in the county, both city and as a member of the central committee, is a shrewd campaigner.

Observers point out that, should he decide to enter the race for supervisor, he will go in with a strong support gained through years of service as police judge here. Judge Mitchell is competent, of unquestioned integrity and knows the needs of the district. Armed with these weapons plus the political knowledge that comes with the years, he will be a dangerous contender, if and when he heeds the pleas of his friends.

A new name has been injected into the Anaheim postmaster situation during the past week through a "Jimmie Heffron-postmaster" that started there.

Rumor is that Jimmie, sports writer and reporter for the Anaheim bulletin, is being favored in several quarters for the job. If the Orange County Democratic Central Committee does change its mind (which, however, is doubtful) Jimmie would be an excellent man for the office.

An old line Democrat, different from the "post office" Democrats that have sprung up in the past year, he has rendered faithful service to the party. Aside from his party service there are other reasons why Jimmie should have the job if the present program to endorse Howard Haines is scrapped.

Jimmie has lived many years in Anaheim and through all those years has cooperated in every move for civic betterment and efforts toward development of the community. He has had experience, both in the newspaper business and other lines, that, taken into a postoffice could not help but increase efficiency. Observers, however, feel that Jimmie may have entered the race too late as the committee has already indicated Haines will get the endorsement.

Speaking of postmasterships Mayor L. A. "Mike" Hogue of Brea would like to have the postmastership of his home town. Originally it was intimated that Hogue would seek the office of supervisor from the Third district, opposing LeRoy Lyon, incumbent. In the past week, however, he has said that if he can get the postoffice job he will not run for supervisor.

Is there a horse trader in the house?

County politicians are all a dither, or something, trying to figure out the state senate and assembly races for the county.

Senator Nelson T. Edwards has definitely declared himself out of the race and will not be a candidate to succeed himself. That leaves the field open. At one time the logical conclusion was that Ted Craig, of Brea, Assemblyman, from the 75th district and, last year, speaker of the Assembly, would be a candidate to succeed Senator Edwards. At the same time it was conceded that if Craig was a candidate he would be elected.

Later, in denying rumors that he intended to resign from the assembly before completing his present term, Craig declined to say whether or not he would be a candidate for any state office at the next election.

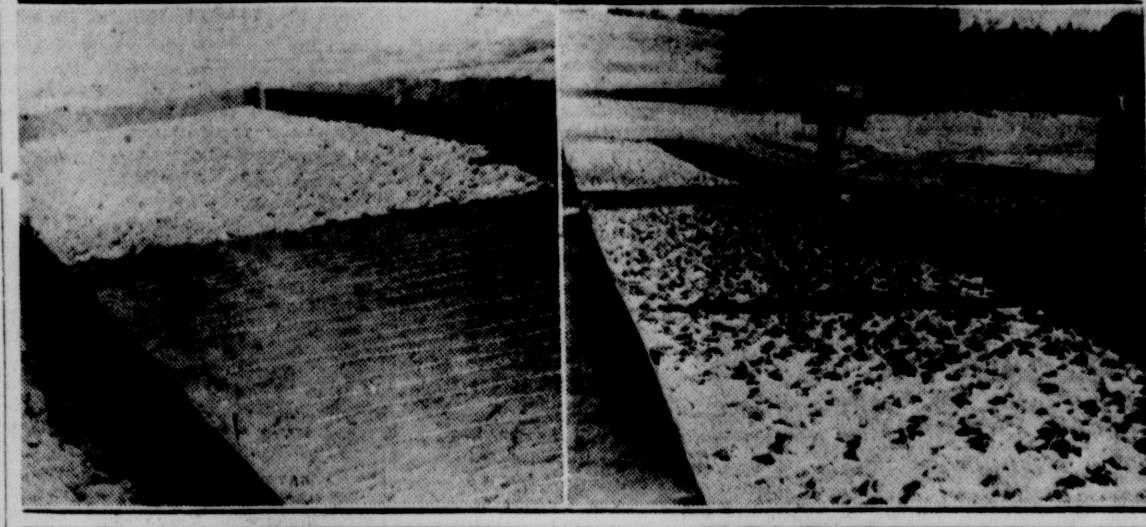

That made James B. Utt, Assemblyman from the 74th district the logical choice. The only trouble, to date, is that Utt has not yet made up his mind whether to seek re-election to the assembly or run for the senate.

Other names prominently mentioned as candidates to succeed Senator Edwards are: Thomas L. McFadden, Anaheim attorney; Alton Launer, Fullerton attorney and Tom Talbert, mayor of Hunt-

ARTIFICIAL HEAT SPEEDS GROWTH

Electric heating cables are shown below in place in hotbeds on the H. O. Smith ranch on the Santiago road, east of Orange, where growth is being speeded up for thousands of sweet potato plants by means of heat generated by electricity. Young plants here shown, show a growth attained in 10 days. Inspecting the work is L. E. Holmes, agricultural power specialist for the Southern California Edison company.

Recommendation of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, on five motion pictures recently released was announced for publication today by Mrs. M. W. Hollingsworth, chairman of the motion picture committee of the Santa Ana Council P.T.A.

The recommendation follows: "Captain Blood"—First National directed by Michael Curtiz. Cast: Errol Flynn, Olivia de Havilland, Lionel Atwill, Basil Rathbone and Guy Kibbee. "The dash, the color and the adventure characteristic of the pen of Rafael Sabatini are brought to the screen in a production, breath-taking in its historic and dramatic scope. Errol Flynn, a newcomer to the screen, plays the leading role with spirit and ease. Family."

"Chatterbox"—RKO—Directed by George Nichols Jr. Cast: Anne Shirley, Phillips Holmes, Edward Ellis. "An innocuous story of a stage-struck country girl who enacts the stellar role in a revival of 'Virtue's Reward', a melodramatic favorite of the '30's. Believing herself a genius, she rehearses with deadly seriousness, only to meet with heartbreak on the successful opening night, when the audience greets her performance with shouts of laughter. A program picture that will please younger audiences."

"King of Burlesque"—Twentieth Century-Fox—Directed by Sidney Lanfield. Cast: Warner Baxter, Alice Faye, Jack Oakie, Arline Judge, Mona Barrie. Originality in the scenario treatment lifts this film out of the category of "just another musical show." Good musical numbers, lavish production and capable direction backed by a good cast. Adults good; 14-18 good; 8-14 unsatisfactory. Family."

"Riff-Raff"—Metro-Goldwyn Mayer—Directed by J. Walter Ruben. Cast: Jean Harlow, Spencer Tracy, Una Merkel. "An ignorant tune-fisherman challenges the labor leadership of a reputable organizer of cannery workers. A quarrelsome blonde joins the scapping boaster in tempestuous matrimony. Their separation and reunion amid a series of disagreeable circumstances are entertaining. Adults, fair; 14-18, no; 8-14, no."

ELECTRICITY USED TO SPEED PLANT GROWTH

Hurrying Mother Nature along in her work of growing young plants by the means of electricity, is a comparatively new phase of agriculture and one which has been introduced here by H. O. Smith, sweet potato grower of Orange. Smith will be able to bring sweet potatoes to market much earlier than if he had heated the soil in the beds in which he started them by the time old method of using manure as a basis for generating heat.

Electrified soil heating is done by removing the top soil and a heating cable is laid in place, doubling it back and forth with the wires about six inches apart. Automatic temperature control is made possible by the installation of a thermostat. Smith needs from two to three hundred thousand sweet potato plants each year and fail-

CLASS IN ART FINDS STYLES ARE CHANGING

Along with styles in other fields, styles in art crafts are constantly changing. Mrs. Eleanor Harnois, teacher of the art craft class in the Lathrop Evening High School, says that the style of the last few years which favored lamp shades and crayon hangings gave place to a great interest in pottery. Just at this particular time there is no special fad in art crafts work except for the Spanish designs.

In Mrs. Harnois' art craft class, which meets on Tuesday evenings in the Lathrop Evening High School, particular attention is given to those articles which find a place in the average home, such as linoleum block-prints and hand-blocked linens. Among these interested in art craft work much attention is being given now to early American styles, such as candle-wick spreads and curtains. The students in the class are also doing bookbinding and woodcarving.

Any person interested in this type of creative work can find his place in the art craft class at the Lathrop Evening High School.

Appointments of Party Suggest Nature of Shower Gifts

Preliminary Plans for Robert Lee Dinner
Announced

Among last week's pleasant events was the party with which Mrs. Frank Matthews, Mrs. Theo W. Rose and Mrs. Frank Rose entertained in the Matthews home, 1328 South Garnsey street, in compliment to Mrs. T. J. Rose of Huntington Beach.

Pink asters and sweet peas were combined with blue delphiniums in flowers used throughout the home, and served as accent to the delicate pink and blue color scheme of all party appointments. For it was a layette shower, with guests bringing their pretty gifts for Mrs. Rose, and placing them on a table where they were guarded by a circle of little blue rabbits, until time for their presentation.

In bunks play of the afternoon, prime for high score went to Mrs. Harry Kaiser of Tustin, and for low score to Mrs. Lucy Reed.

Card tables were then spread with blue and white covers for serving rolled cheese sandwiches, each tied with blue ribbons like a small blancmange, with coffee, molded jello and blue and white iced cakes with a storm motif. Salted nuts were placed in small blue bassinets, and even the china continued the dominant color theme.

Mrs. Rose received unusually lovely gifts, from the guests who included Mesdames Melvin Shattuck, Jack Reed, Lucy Reed, Harold Pickering, Harold Hams, Lester Allender, Charles Pedroja and Miss Muriel Philbrook of this city; Mesdames Edward Kaiser, S. M. Matthews, Joseph Casper-son, Dudley Kaiser, John Kaiser and Harry Kaiser, Tustin; Mrs. Charles Pilgrim of Weed, Calif.; Mrs. Cornelia Dixon of Holly-wood; Mrs. Ernest Rose, Costa Mesa, and the hostess group, Mrs. T. W. Rose, Mrs. Frank Rose and Mrs. Frank Matthews.

MR. AND MRS. HILL HONORED ON ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING

Years of residence in Santa Ana of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Hill, now of Hemet, made it especially fitting that the golden anniversary of their wedding should be celebrated in this city. Yesterday in the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Lockett, 2036 North Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. Hill were the center of interest on the part of friends calling during the afternoon "at home" hours.

It was on January 18, 1886 that Miss Anna Axelson and G. P. Hill were wedded in Blue Rapids, Kans. Departing at once for the west, they made the journey to Santa Ana, their wedding trip. G. P. Hill went into business that same year with his father in the Hill and Son Hardware store, for many years one of the leading business houses in the county.

Mr. C. E. Price, chapter president, named Mrs. George Wells as program chairman, and while the latter has not yet completed arrangements for entertainment sufficiently to make formal announcement of what is to be given, she has promised interesting speakers, music and readings, all on a general southern theme.

Women of the hostess church are planning a typical southern dinner, to be served promptly at noon. Since the Robert E. Lee dinners always draw a large crowd, it has been suggested that those planning to attend make reservations well in advance of the date, either through Mrs. Price, telephone 21-2, or Mrs. Lillian D. Pritchett, telephone 2137-W.

It might be interesting to note in connection with the annual celebration, that the sole Confederate veteran of the Civil war now residing in this city, is A. T. Armstrong, 1008 North Broadway. His daughter, Miss Ruth Armstrong, one of the best known musicians in the city, will probably take part in the program according to custom.

THE TWYMMITES

Story by HAL COCHRAN Pictures by GEORGE SCARBO

Said Scouty, "Watch! I'll quickly fix this elephant so he'll do tricks. I'm sure that I can train him. He is such a friendly sort."

"I've heard that, if to beasts you're kind, and don't torment them, you will find that they will be real friendly, too. Here's where I have some sport."

The Times watched him for a while and then fair Goldy, with a smile, said, "Scouty must have magic power. This is quite a show."

"The elephant is standing high upon his hind legs. Me, oh my!"

ANNUAL COUNTY EVENT SLATED ON WEDNESDAY

Oceanview Grade School Pupils To Give Play Jan. 15

OCEANVIEW, Jan. 13.—"Thrift" will be the subject for a meeting of the Parent-Teacher association to be held Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. The Study circle will meet at 3 o'clock. The fourth grade mothers will be hostesses at the meeting.

The talk on "Thrift" will be given by Mrs. Payne, fourth grade teacher who will also direct a play to be presented by her pupils. A second talk, "My Travels in Mexico," will be given by Miss Geneva White, who spent considerable time in that country last summer.

NAME OFFICERS OF SILVER ACRES CLUB

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 13.—An address by James L. Davis, deputy district attorney; election of club officers for the year, and a potluck dinner, were included in the program of the Newport Beach Townsend Old Age Pension club, when they held their first anniversary meeting at Christ Church By the Sea.

"The labor situation as it now exists would be solved, and it is believed by many that the crime situation as it now exists, would be much reduced," he said.

Charles W. Sonnenman was elected president, George B. Moreland vice president, and Alfred Smith secretary. The advisory board chosen includes Mrs. Sadie Roche, George B. Moreland, W. E. Ellsworth, Mrs. Anne Hemphill, Tucker Hunt and W. H. Graves.

It was announced that national club reports may be secured from Charles Roche, at the intersection of Main and Bay streets, Balboa, and at Thompson's grocery, at Twenty-second street and Coast boulevard, Newport Beach. The next regular meeting of the organization will be held at the church January 23.

Mrs. Claude Sweetman was in charge of the program and Mrs. Roche managed the dinner service.

Dinner Planned By Woman's Club

MIDWAY CITY, Jan. 13.—The Midway City Woman's club met recently with 20 members present. Plans were completed for the turkey dinner to be given at the clubhouse Saturday night, January 25. The members have started working on a quilt to be sold later.

Mrs. Easer gave the current events. A violin duet was given by Mrs. Ed L. Hensley and Mrs. Orion Bebermeyer, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Ray Miller. Miss Funk, Huntington Beach, gave an interesting talk and displayed articles from Peru. Tea and wafers were served by the hostesses, Mesdames Bebermeyer, Seiverson and Fraiser.

ROAD PROJECT OUTLINED FOR BEACH GROUP

CORONA DEL MAR, Jan. 13.—N. E. West, fifth district supervisor, spoke to the Civic Center group Saturday evening on "Public Affairs," explaining plans for extension of South Main street, and pointing out the benefits that will accrue to Corona Del Mar when the job is completed. While under construction, the project will employ 200 men for a year, he said. The county will stand 20 per cent of the cost.

The speaker also called attention to a proposed park project along the state highway in the vicinity of the bridge over the bay, and urged that Corona Del Mar give encouragement and support toward the job because of benefits to be derived by the community. It is being planned to levy a one per cent tax to care for the project, he said.

John Sherwood Harris, member of the board of directors of a Los Angeles financial institution that has extensive holdings in the Corona Del Mar section, gave a short talk at the meeting, outlining plans that his company has for the improvement of their properties here and expressing a willingness to co-operate with the municipality in improvements.

A strip of beach wide enough for a landing place on the Corona Del Mar side of the harbor entrance for a ferry will be donated by his company, he stated.

William Kendall, chairman of the group, introduced the speakers. Refreshments were served. Mrs. D. S. Lloyd announced that a tamale dinner will be served at next Saturday night's meeting preceding a program of entertainment by the WPA Hill Billies under the direction of George Foy.

Fifty-Fifty Club Has Dinner Dance in Long Beach

Dining and dancing at the Riviera hotel, Long Beach, members and guests of Southern California Fifty-Fifty club enjoyed a festive affair Saturday night. Wayne Harrison, Al Fernandes and Riley Huber formed the capable committee making arrangements for the event.

Seven-thirty o'clock was the hour set for dinner, which was served at tables spread with black as a background for silver-sprayed tumbler, and black tapers in silver candlesticks. Black and silver are the club colors.

This was a formal affair, for which music was furnished by Joe Lindbaum's orchestra.

Adding to the merriment of the evening, motion pictures of the group were filmed, and will be shown at a meeting of the club in the near future. Plans were made to hold the next regular business session Monday, January 20 in the home of Ray Hiniker in Los Angeles. At the same time, wives and other guests of members will be entertained at a card party in the Los Angeles home of Mrs. Robert Redington.

Present were Messrs. and Mesdames Estee Brown, Le Roy Burns, Budd Forster, William Grafton, Merrill Gregory, Wayne Harrison, Ray Hiniker, Riley Huber, Ross Ingram, John King, Don Knapp, Ewald Lemcke, Harvey Lytle, Lawrence Mitchell, Elton McCoy, Robert Redington, Irving Wardman, Dr. and Mrs. Al Colby; the Misses Edna Laughlin, Florence Diller, Lee Fernandez, Ruth Garner, Midge Norman, Elaine Hatch, Evelyn Heitzman, Ethelyne Grainger, Stell Jackson, Marjorie Walker; Messrs. Paul Beckman, Harry Crockett, Ralph Culp, Hugh Edwards, Al Fernandes, Clyde Hill, Herbert Macland, Dick McKee, William Quale, Hume West, with a group of guests including Messrs. and Mesdames Ade Hecker, James Smith, V. B. Rod Pomeroy, Herbert Weaver, Anderson, Arley Mills, Carl Elstie, and Misses: Miss Betty Rowland and Dick Melrose.

Linen Shower is First In Party Series for Miss Schilling

One of the first pre-nuptial parties to honor Miss Roseland Schilling, who on March 8 will become the bride of Lee Hasenjaeger, was held Saturday afternoon when Miss Eleanor Wissner and Miss Ernestine Wakeham entertained in the latter's home on Magnolia road, Garden Grove.

Bride was the chosen diversion, with a prize in pottery going to Miss Betty Vorce, who scored high, while Miss Aileen Adams was consoled with a linen handkerchief. Grand prize presented to the surprised honoree proved to be a variety of lovely linens chosen by the guests for her future home.

Refreshments of a salad course with wafers, followed by heart-centered ice cream roll and petit fours were served by the hostesses, assisted by Miss Marjorie Wakeham, and the two hostesses, Miss Eleanor Wissner and Miss Ernestine Wakeham, who is here for the holidays from Berkeley, where she is a senior.

Strange as it seems, animal life is found on almost every bit of ground on earth—some especially adapted to the severe cold of the north and far south, others suited to the sweltering heat of tropical areas. Man has been able to survive in the extremes of heat and cold—and the only other creature that can adapt itself to any climate is the ant.

Ants can withstand an amazing change in temperature without abandoning their homes. They simply burrow deeper into the ground when heat or cold threatens them. Drought and flood are also withstood by the ants in their nest and when a scarcity of food threatens it does not wipe them out—for the female can go for months without eating. Many authorities rank ants at the top of the insect scale. Like man, they co-operate in their communities for food, shelter, and protection.

The great showman, P. T. Barnum, tricked a ruling sovereign into riding in a gaudy circus parade to advertise the Barnum circus opening in New York. Half a century ago when King Kalakaua of Hawaii, was visiting in New York, Barnum invited him to attend the opening of the show. The king accepted and Barnum quickly offered to provide a carriage for his royal guest.

The carriage he sent was a golden chariot drawn by six white horses. Behind it were other chariots, and on the sides were huge posters announcing that King Kalakaua was going to the circus. Instead of going directly to the show, Barnum had his royal parade wind around through New York's streets for miles before pulling up before the circus gates.

OFFICERS TO BE INSTALLED BY BUILDERS

New officers will be installed tomorrow night at the annual meeting and ladies night of the Orange County Builders Exchange.

The affair will be held in American Legion hall, Orange, and will be preceded by a 6:30 p. m. dinner, according to Franklyn E. Smith, executive secretary.

Officers to be seated during the business meeting include: I. W. Franklin, president; H. H. Schleuter, first vice president; R. L. Matthews, treasurer, and Franklyn E. Smith, secretary.

Officers to be seated during the business meeting include: I. W. Franklin, president; H. H. Schleuter, first vice president; R. L. Matthews, treasurer, and Franklyn E. Smith, secretary.

William J. Tway will serve as toastmaster during the dinner and will introduce the new officers and speakers. During the dinner, guests will join in community singing and a program of entertainment will be presented.

During the business session, which will follow the dinner, retiring officers and committees that served during the past year will submit their reports on activities carried on in 1935.

The business meeting will be brief, according to Smith and will be followed by dancing and cards.

LOCKWOOD'S STUDIO SHOP OPENS HERE

Lockwood's, a studio shop, featuring the latest fiction and smart girls, opened Saturday afternoon at 1911 North Main street, with Ethel K. Lockwood, former Los Angeles writer, as owner and manager. No attempt was made to sell merchandise, but the entire attention of Mrs. Lockwood and her assistants was given to meeting guests and getting acquainted. Refreshments were served and dainty souvenirs of miniature furniture distributed. More than a hundred guests registered during the afternoon and evening.

1841 JAPANESE NOW IN ORANGE COUNTY

Two Santa Anas, located in the CCC camp at Logandale, Nev., have won honors for their service, according to word received today from George C. Larson, forest supervisor in charge of work at the camp. The men receiving honors are Joe D. Riley of 120 South Flower street, and Floyd H. Ambrose, of 1215 North Van Ness street.

Riley was promoted to the position of leader because of his skill as a tractor operator and in the use of a large revolving scraper. Ambrose who is assistant to the operator of a steam shovel, also was promoted to leader in the camp.

Budapest is on both sides of the Danube river. Buda is on one side and Pest on the other.

ORIGIN OF EMPLOYMENT

There seems to be much confusion among the majority of people regarding distinction between work and employment.

Ten million persons can find no one to give them employment. Let us analyze, briefly, the origin of employment—what causes employment and what causes lack of employment. Why do people seek employment, subjecting themselves to the directions of their employers? Why don't they work for themselves?

Let it first be said that there is, now, and always has been, plenty of work but that there is now a great scarcity of employers. There is great scarcity of jobs, that is.

In primitive society there is practically no employment. There can be no employment where there is no wealth. That is, there can be no employment where there is no savings to be diverted into labor-saving vegetation, labor-saving domestic animals, labor-saving equipment. Where there is none of these, every man works for himself, trying to eke out a living directly from wild life. Employment starts only when someone has been able to get a little more than enough to keep body and soul together, and uses some of his time and energy in producing some labor-saving device, whether it be in the form of tools, domestic animals or vegetation. When he gets more of these tools than he can operate himself then employment begins. Then begins advances of food, shelter and clothing to his employees as their wages, and he awaits the fruits of what the workers are producing. It is from this saving and this alone, that employment begins. When a man buys a new pair of shoes, he probably is not the man who is giving employment. Food, shelter and clothing, necessary to provide for the laborers who have made these shoes, have been previously provided out of savings of the shoe manufacturer. Had the man not bought the pair of shoes or had there been no anticipated demand for them, the shoe manufacturer would have put his savings into machinery to produce something that someone else wanted, besides shoes. In other words, the producer of shoes does not furnish employment but only directs what the manufacturer shall produce and reimburse the manufacturer for, for furnishing food, shelter and clothing to the workers.

Thus, we say that savings comes from savings, capital; and has to be operated and taken care of in order to produce for the owner. When there is not enough capital to give employment to all workers, there is unemployment.

To illustrate: If there are 50 milk cows which have to be milked and cared for, for every man who has to work for a living, there will be plenty of work for all, and the man who does the milking will get a larger fraction of the milk and cream. If there are 50 men who have to do the milking, taking care of cows for a living, and there is but one cow to be milked, they will get little employment, and will have to work for themselves to get sustenance—from wild vegetation or wild animals.

Men take jobs and work for other people only because they can get more for their time and energy by sharing the fruits of their labors with the men who furnish them with tools of production.

If people better understood how employment originally started and the causes of lack of employment, there would not now be 10 million people out of work.

THE BLUSHING BRIDEGROOM

Sidney Summerfield is head of the marriage license bureau in Chicago, and in that job he has come in contact with bridal couples without number; and he rises to remark that the "blushing bride" of tradition is as rare as the cigar store Indian of blessed memory.

As a matter of fact, says Mr. Summerfield, it is the man who gets all trembly and colors up to the ears when he approaches the altar. The little woman is as cool and self-possessed as an archdeacon.

And this, it seems to us, is a useful bit of puncturing of a very old tradition. Men like to believe that they are the level-headed ones, in moments of emotional stress, and that women get smitten with the jitters.

In reality, however, it is usually just the other way. The ordinary woman can give the ordinary man cards and spades in the business of keeping a grip on fluttery nerves.

REGISTER CLEARING HOUSE

Editor, Register:

I acknowledge receipt of your invitation to contribute to the columns of The Register any thoughts one might have towards an intelligent solution of local and national problems. Well, that calls for a great deal better brain and a far better informed man than I am. The best brains and best informed men and women throughout the nation have been and are now trying to solve those very problems. I don't know whether society would be benefited or injured by the publication in any paper of miscellaneous submissions of what most likely would be lacking in accurate knowledge of conditions, in statesmanship, in true patriotism, in unselfishness and in the highest respect for our old and well tried out American institutions. There are very few people in a small political subdivision like Orange county who should presume to advise the masses what to do on any big controversial public question. There is far too much of that going on all the time, doing more harm than good. You are doing very well yourself in your editorial column. You appear to be generally well informed and a well balanced writer, er, even an expert on money and taxation, two very vital public questions, and I think we better read your analysis of public questions rather than as many submitted solutions as there would be answers to your said letter. The only thought I humbly offer and which would appear to be safe is that we should be more honest and careful and less partisan in selecting our representatives in our lawmaking bodies, and other public officials, and then show a more respectful and more helpful attitude regardless of political affiliations than is the common practice.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN N. ANDERSON

Editor Register:

As the registrars of voters are abroad in our land every citizen has an opportunity to add either strength or weakness to this, the most perfect form of government known to man.

We call it a Democracy but it can function perfectly only under a two party system with the line of cleavage being the most vital issue of the time and just to the extent that we support a party that is true to our Constitution and to the people can we be loyal citizens.

The 18th Amendment was made a part of our Constitution by a greater majority than any other part of that sacred document ever received and by the people of our own time after they had felt the curse of the rum traffic, and the most prosperous times this nation ever experienced was during the Animals are raised and children are reared. You see, a thing that is raised is lifted up higher.

Oh, for the simple old days when all of the world's wickedness and woe could be blamed on short skirts.

The thing to buy for a profit when modern planes begin to bomb great cities is distant farm lands.

The two usual methods of living at the expense of others are (1) to receive a dole, and (2) to say: "Charge it."

Another editor asks what is youth's reaction to our economic situation. We know that one, too. It's a yawn.

ANOTHER GOOD INTELLIGENCE TEST IS TO BUMP ANOTHER CAR AND SEE IF YOU CAN TELL WHOSE FAULT IT WAS

How to be a great leader: First find somebody or something that the people can hate.

The capitalist thinks his money more important than men. This is especially true if his capital is $2.65.

Those awful Germans are still ganging up to persecute Jews, while we merely tar and feather those we dislike.

AMERICANISM: Feeling horrified by wide-open gambling: making no protest while gambling houses operate on the sly.

What is it, asks an editorial, that worries youth most? Speaking off-hand, we'd say pimples.

One explanation of young criminals is that nobody will support them in the style in which they were raised.

A feminine writer hates housekeeping because it is just doing the same thing day after day. Lady, if you had to shave—

WE ARE A QUEER ANIMAL, AND THOSE WHO GET THEIR KICK FROM COFFEE WILL ALWAYS FEEL THEMSELVES SUPERIOR TO THOSE WHO GET THEIRS FROM BEER.

McIntyre speaks of a celebrity who "smokes incessantly." Nonsense! Who ever saw a smoker who didn't stop to spit?

What is most important? Well, the law protects pocketbooks from worthless securities, but what protects minds from worthless ideas?

What a country! It punishes those who are cruel to animals, and does nothing to those who provide old people impossible pensions.

At 15 you like people because they are so good; at 40 you scorn them because they are so rotten; at 70 you like the poor things because they can't help it.

CORRECT THIS SENTENCE: "IN THIS CAMPAIGN," SAID THE REFORMER, "ALL OF THE GOOD PEOPLE ARE ON THE SAME SIDE."

More Truth Than Poetry

THE SNOW MAN

He looked valiant and brave and upstanding.

He had beautiful anthracite eyes.

He kept himself warm through the chilliest storm.

In a coat that was blue as the skies, perched high on his white, shining forehead.

Was a hat that was minus a brim.

And not round the girth Of this rotating earth.

Could anyone find a snow man like him.

Each day I enhanced his bright beauty With garments I found here and there.

I protected his chest Through the stillest storm.

In a coat that was blue as the skies, perched high on his white, shining forehead.

Was a hat that was minus a brim.

And not round the girth Of this rotating earth.

Could anyone find a snow man like him.

Each day I enhanced his bright beauty With garments I found here and there.

I protected his chest Through the stillest storm.
